Secretary Laylin Hears Protest.

Alum Baking Powders interfere with digestion and are unhealthful.
Avoid the alum.

The gist of the situation is the same as last spring when M. R. Snodgrass, then candidate for Common Pleas Judge, against C. H. Kyle, was turned down by the County Central Committee, on a resolution asking that the spring primary be held under the law. Had such been done Charles Kyle would never have received the nomination or Andy Jackson been central committeeman. That's why "Bosses" defeat the measures introduced compelling all political parties to hold their primaries under the law. When this is done there will be no ballots put in the judge's shoes, pockets, or taken from the box and changed while the candidate is being placed under arrest, and not until then.

MUSIC EACH EVENING.

The election board has selected judges and clerks for the coming election. The recommendations are sent in by the central committee men George Winter and Andrew Jackson. The former recommended T. B. Andrews, and W. P. Townsley for judges and Edwin Richards for clerk. These officers also will have charge of the local option election. The latter recommended J. W. Pollock and A. H. Creswell and J. W. Johnson, clerk.

The Democratic judges for corporation will be C. M. Grouse and D. L. Crawford and Howard Strain, clerk. For the township W. A. Turnbull and James Shane and E. L. Smith, clerk.

The following item which is sent the Herald from the Weekly Index, of Chicago Lawn, Ill., will doubtless be of interest to residents here.

A pretty wedding took place on the evening of Oct. 18, at the home of Rev. H. and Mrs. E. MacHattton, at 3757 64th place, Chicago Lawn, when their daughter, Martha, was united in marriage to Mr. A. D. Carr, of Boston, Mass. The ceremony was performed by Mr. MacHattton, who is a retired United Presbyterian minister. The bride wore a pretty costume. The flowers were American Beauty roses and the rooms were nicely decorated. Their present home will be in St. Louis.

Saturday. There has been one game with this team already this season, neither side being able to score.

FAMOUS TRAIN IN MUSIC.

"The Pennsylvania Special" March by Bandmaster Innes Scores a Big Hit.

The latest musical composition to strike the popular ear and score as the distinct hit of the season is "The Pennsylvania Special" march, composed by the famous bandmaster, F. N. Innes, and played for the first time recently in Chillicothe by his noted New York Orchestra Band.

The two step, disappointed the audience and encore after encore was called for. The march possesses that irresistible quality which declines it to be played, whistled, and danced. Composer Innes dedicated the march to Samuel Wood, General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines. It bears the name of the pioneer eighteen-hour train between Chicago and New York established over the Pennsylvania Lines last June and which has won a world-wide celebrity.

The piano score has been hand-somerly engraved and printed in keeping with the high-class character of the composition. A presentation copy of this music may be obtained by sending a request with four cents postage to Pennsyl-

The citizens ticket will be found on the right hand side of the ballot, at the bottom, of the outside column. It will be necessary to put a mark (x) before each name. The ticket is composed by representative Republicans. It is a ticket nominated by petition and not by one man. It is the ticket that Roosevelt, Taft, Wearer, LaFollett and Root endorse.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

President Jobe, has received the notice of the Farmers' Institute to be held here this winter. The dates are February 19th and 20th. The State speakers are G. C. Housekeeper, Bowling, Greene, O., and Oas. McIntire, Chandler, Ohio.

DAVID SHROADS.

After a long illness Mr. David Shroads died at his home, Thursday evening about five o'clock. He had been a sufferer from kidney disease for some time, his age, 68, being much against his recovery. The funeral will be held from the M. E. church Sabbath afternoon at 2 o'clock, standard time. Burial takes place at the cemetery north of town.

BUILT STOCK PENS.

The firm of Kerr and Hastings Bros., have built some stock pens at the rear of the scales where the stock buyers weigh their stock. This was done as a matter of convenience for both the stock buyer and the farmer who has to sell his cattle, sheep and hogs. Since the railroad company has been making so many improvements, about the freight house the shipping arrangements when it came to handling live stock.
At present the company is taking down a part of the new stock pens built just this summer to make room for another track.

Hospital Cars on Prussian Railways.

The Prussian "ministry for railways has placed at every important railway center throughout the kingdom a magnificently built and appointed car for the transport of sick persons. These cars have been specially fitted up from plans supplied by sanitary authorities. Spring beds and every medical device for the alleviation of suffering during transit have been utilized. There are ice safes, gas stoves for cooking, rooms for attendants and ingenious devices for muffling the sound caused by the motion of the train. It is not intended to make these carriages pay.
They have been instituted chiefly on the ground of humanity.

The Frankfurter.

The little sausage known as "Frankfurter" and "Wiener" was, according to the Wiener Neue Freie Presse, offered for sale for the first time in 1805, and the centennial was observed in Vienna by the butchers' guild. The inventor of the sausage was Johann Lahner, who named it for his birthplace, Frankfurt. The business founded a hundred years ago by a poor man has yielded a fortune to his various heirs. It has always remained in the same family and is now conducted in Vienna by Franz Lahner, a grandnephew of the original Frankfurter sausage man.

Josh Billings.

Josh Billings in "His Sayings" (1866) wrote the following declaration: "To Deaken Uriah Billings—a man of many virtues and summings—this book is completely dedicated—and may he have the strength to stand it—his own nephew, Joshua Billings." And in the same volume the author says to the reader: "Tread lightly, dear reader, for the way is ruff. This book was got up too sell, but if it don't prove to be a sell I shan't worry about it."

Man's Unreasonableness.

Is often as great as woman's. But Thos. S. Austin, Mgr. of the "Republican," of Leavenworth, Ind., was not unreasonable, when he refused to allow the doctors to operate on his wife, for female trouble. "Instead," he says, "we concluded to try Electric Bitters. My wife was then so sick, she could hardly leave her bed, and five (5) physicians had failed to relieve her. After taking Electric Bitters, she was perfectly cured, and can now perform all her household duties." Guaranteed by Every housekeeper should know that if they will buy Defiance Cold Water Starch for laundry use they will save not only because it never settles to the bottom, but because it costs but 16 cents per pail pound—while all other Cold Water Starches are put up in 3 1/2 pound packages, and the price is the same, 16 cents. Then again because Defiance Starch is free from injurious chemicals. If your grocer tries to sell you a 12-oz. package it is because he has a stock on hand which he wishes to dispose of before he puts in Defiance. He knows that Defiance Starch has printed on every package in large letters and figures "16 ozs." Demand Defiance and save much time and money and the annoyance of the iron stickgu! Defiance never sticks.

TIME.

Its Divisibility and Its Relation to the Speed of the Planets.

Napoleon, who knew the value of time, remarked that it was the quarter hours that won battles. The value of minutes has been often recognized, and any person watching a railway clerk handing out tickets and change during the last few minutes available must have been struck with how much could be done in those short portions of time.

At the appointed hour the train starts and by and by is carrying passengers at the rate of sixty miles an hour. In a second you are carried twenty-nine yards. In one twenty-ninth of a second you pass over one yard. Now, and said to quite an appreciable distance, but one twenty-ninth of a second is a period which cannot be appreciated.

Yet it is when we come to planetary and stellar motions that the notion of the infinite divisibility of time dawns upon us in a new light.
It would seem that no portion of time, however microscopic, is unavailable. Nature can perform prodigies not certainly in less than no time, but in portions of it so minute as to be altogether inconceivable. The earth revolves on her axis in twenty-four hours. At the equator her circumference is 25,000 miles; hence in that part of the earth a person is being carried eastward at the rate of 500 yards per second—that is, he is moving over a yard, whose length is conceivable in the period of one five-hundred-and-ninety part of a second, of which we can have no conception at all.

But more, the orbital motion of the earth around the sun causes the former to perform a revolution of nearly 900,000,000 miles in a year, or somewhat less than 70,000 miles an hour, which is more than 1,000 miles a minute. Here, then, our second carries us the long distance of about nineteen miles. The mighty ball thus flies about a mile in the nineteenth part of a second.

The Story of Napoleon's Bees.

Napoleon I., wishing to have an imperial emblem more ancient than the fleur-de-lis, adopted the bee under the following circumstances: When the tomb of Childeric, father of Clovis, was opened in 1653 there were found more than 800 of what the French heralds mistook for bees, "of the purest gold, their wings being inlaid with a red stone like carnelian." These were, in truth, what are in French called fleurons, ornaments supposed to have been sprinkled on the harness of a war horse.
These "bees" were sent to Louis XIV., but it was Napoleon who had them sewn over his imperial robes, as emblematic of the activity and enterprise of his dynasty. It has been held in modern days that the French fleur-de-lis is really derived from a bee with outspread wings, and if this is so the royal and the imperial emblems originate in a similar source.

Why the Judge Objected.

The following story is told of Judge G. W. Green, who for many years was judge of the probate court at St. Albans, Vt.: At the annual town meeting the purchase of a new town house had been voted and a committee appointed to canvass the townspeople for subscriptions. One of the committee thought it would be an excellent plan to have the judge's name at the head of this list and to that end approached him.
The judge absolutely refused to make a contribution and when questioned as to the reason said, "Why should I subscribe toward a new house when I haven't ridden in the old one yet?"

Well Parried.

"What passed between yourself and the complainant?" inquired the magistrate in a county court. "I think, sir," replied the worthy Mr.
O'Brien, "a half dozen bricks and a lump of paving stone." "In Irish Life and Humor" William Harvey gives another anecdote of the Irish-man's readiness in the court of law.

"Now, Pat," said a magistrate to an old offender, "what brought you here again?"

"Two policemen, sir," was the laconic reply.

"Drunk, I suppose?" queried the magistrate.

"Yes, sir," said Pat, "both av thim."

Some Physical Facts.

A person's eyes are out of line in two cases out of five and one eye is stronger than the other in seven persons out of ten. The right eye is also as a rule higher than the left.
Only one person in fifteen has perfect eyes, the largest percentage of defects prevailing among fair haired people. The smallest vibration of sound can be distinguished better with one ear than with both. The nails of two fingers never grow with the same rapidity, that of the middle finger growing the fastest. In fifty-four cases out of a hundred the left leg is shorter than the right.
